Corn Belt Invites Public to Open House July 3

Cornbelt Hatcheries, Inc., today issued an invitation to the public to attend its "open house" affair on the Rocky Mound road from 1 to 5 p. m. Wednesday.

John R. Randolph, general manager, said the huge two-story dwelling formerly known as the Summerville property, had been transformed into office space to provide quarters for Cornbelt's general office, which is being moved to Hope from Joliet, Ill.

The remodeled property is equipped with new lighting, plumbing, carpeting, with central heat and air-conditioning, as well as many other improvements.

The first floor provides space for administrative offices, and the second floor will house the bookkeeping section, a general conference room and also offices for field supervisors.

One of three large barns is undergoing remodeling to serve as a refrigerated egg depot for the commercial and hatchery egg phase of the operation. Commercial eggs will be sized, candled and cartoned at the new grading station. The other barns will be remodeled and utilized at a later date.

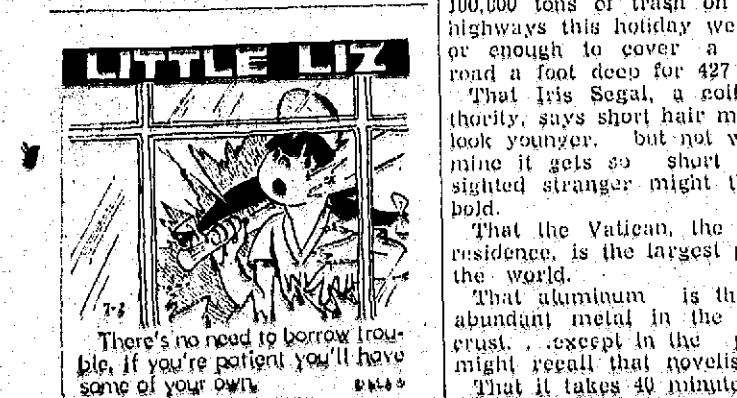

The lawn, surrounding the new two-story office building, has a new growth of Zoysia grass.

Cornbelt Hatcheries has a staff of 35 local persons and additional personnel will be employed as expansion here continues. The firm also owns and operates a 120-acre demonstration farm near Blevins, staffed with several families.

Cornbelt's commercial egg program, spreading throughout a 30-mile radius of Hope, is now producing near 400 cases of eggs per week and is expected to jump to 1200 cases per week by January 1, according to Mr. Randolph.

Last week the Cornbelt firm, in cooperation with Hope chamber of commerce, conducted a tour of the Blevins area which ended at the demonstration farm where barbecued chicken was served to some 150 persons, including many business men and their wives.

Mrs. Freeda Roth Greenan, president of the firm, expressed hope that the public would turn out in large numbers Wednesday afternoon and visit the two-story office building and facilities of an expanding industry which is leaving its impact upon the economy of Hope and Hempstead county.

There's no need to borrow trouble, if you're patient you'll have some of your own.

Two Accidents Here Probed by Police

Near the underpass on Highway 28, south, yesterday automobiles driven by Mrs. Nellis Adams, of Houston, Texas and Mrs. Howard Livingston of Patmos collided with heavy damage resulting.

Investigating City Officers said there was heavy damage to the Texas car and fender and bumper damage to the Livingston automobile. Mrs. Adams with reckless driving.

In another accident on East Second Street yesterday cars driven by Roscoe Davis and Mrs. C. P. Roberts collided. City Officers said Mrs. Roberts was pulling out from the curb when the accident occurred. Both vehicles had fender damage.

Will Continue Ban Against Wide Trailers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A ban against the towing of overwide house trailers on Arkansas highways will continue to be enforced, R. M. Faust, head of the Weights and Standards Division of the State Police, said yesterday.

Request by the State Police Commission and Gov. Orval Faubus had the effect of "telling me to violate the law," Faust said.

The commission, inspired by suggestions from Faubus, agreed to lift the ban to allow Arkansas manufacturers to tow trailers 10 feet wide to out-of-state customers.

A 1955 act prohibits movement of vehicle 10 feet wide or more but, Faust said, movement of the overwide trailers under certain conditions had been allowed under an administrative agreement.

Faubus had said several manufacturers had threatened to leave the state unless the ban was lifted. Faust said he had not been notified officially of the recent commission action and that he doubted the commission has the authority to rescind a legislative act.

Motorists Litter Roads Heavily Over Holidays

By MAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
That America's motoring litterbugs, it is estimated, will throw 100,000 tons of trash on major highways this holiday weekend, or enough to cover a two-lane road a foot deep for 427 miles.
That Iris Segal, a colturf author, says short hair makes you look younger, but not when like mine it gets so short a near-sighted stranger might think you bold.
That the Vatican, the Pope's residence, is the largest palace in the world.
That aluminum is the most abundant metal in the earth's crust, except in the pentagon, might recall that novelist Joseph Heller takes 40 minutes to boil an ostrich's egg for proper flavor.

Youth Racing Police Kills Negro Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An automobile, driven by a teen-ager, and pursued by a police patrol car, struck and killed an unidentified Negro man in downtown Little Rock last night, police reported.

Patrolman Leo Harris and Elmer Johnson said the accident stemmed from what appeared to be a race among three cars.

They said a 16-year-old youth, identified as the driver of the death car, was arrested. Traffic Judge John L. Sullivan directed police to release the boy to his parents and ordered the youth to make bond today.

Police said the victim had no identification papers.

Harris and Johnson said they had stopped at a traffic light when they noticed three cars lined up on the other side of the intersection. The drivers "floored" their cars when the light changed, they said.

The Negro, who was about 60 years old, was struck about two blocks away as the patrolmen turned their car around to give chase. Harris said other teen-agers were riding in the car with the arrested youth.

The patrolmen said they talked to the driver of one of the other two cars but the third driver left the scene.

Pulaski County Coroner Howard A. Dishongh said the Negro pedestrian, who was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital, had suffered a broken neck, skull fracture, broken legs and a broken hip.

Senate Okay to Money Bill Is Predicted

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders predicted passage today of the biggest appropriations bill of the session — the $34,534,229,000 defense money measure.

Leaders said they expect passage in just the form the bill came from the Senate appropriations committee.

That group put back into the bill $971,504,000 of the $2,565,275,000 in reductions voted by the House. Differences will be worked out in a conference.

President Eisenhower asked restoration of only about $1,200,000 of the House cuts. The administration regarded the remainder as largely bookkeeping transactions which would not affect spending in the year ahead.

Arkansas Boat Firm Sells for a Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Directors of a boat building company here have voted to sell its assets for more than one million dollars to a Chicago firm in order to obtain additional working capital.

Fred J. Vanner, president of Southwest Manufacturing Co., notified stockholders by mail yesterday of the vote. He said the purchaser of the common stock would be Standard Railway Equipment Manufacturing Co. of Chicago.

Approval of the decision requires a two-thirds vote of stockholders, who will meet July 25.

Vanner said Southwest would continue to operate here if the transaction is approved.

Vanner said Southwest would offer was accepted mainly because of "pressing need" for more capital.

State PSC Against Army in Rate Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Army has lost an attempt to enter the much-litigated Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. rate case.

The Arkansas Public Service Commission rejected an application of the Army for reconsideration of a $4,300,000 a year industrial rate increase, first granted to Ark-La in 1955.

The PSC agreed with an Ark-La motion that the Army acting on behalf of the Pine Bluff Arsenal, was not a party to the case and could not ask that it be reopened.

Permission to appeal to Pulaski Circuit Court also was refused by the Army on the same grounds.

The federal government, sought to enter the case when protestants requested the rate increase to the Arkansas Supreme Court, but lost that attempt when the court ruled it had delayed too long before filing its action. The Pine Bluff Arsenal is one of Ark-La's largest industrial customers.

Early this year the Supreme Court said the PSC had used an unauthorized formula in determining the amount Ark-La should be permitted and disallowed the increase.

On May 27, the PSC announced that it had restudied the case and held that under the procedure outlined by the high court Ark-La still was entitled to a $4,300,000 annual increase.

The Army filed its motion for reconsideration June 11, contending that the commission had not followed the Supreme Court's instructions and had erred in not holding new public hearings.

Two days later Ark-La filed its motion to strike the Army petition for reconsideration and appeal.

Party to Cost Producer $200,000

LONDON (AP) — Film producer Mike Todd is throwing a party for 1,700 people tonight which may see him back as much as $200,000.

Not that Elizabeth Taylor will have to trim her spending for hubby to take care of the bill. The festivities launch Mike's movie "Around the World in 80 Days" in Britain.

If it wasn't sent on the remote, the tax collector probably would get a good chunk of it.

The big binge will begin with the film premiere — for charity — at the Astoria Theater. That will cost Todd 30,000 pounds — $84,000.

After the show the guests will cross the Thames River on five bargequipped steam boats and take over the Battersea Festival Gardens.

Everything is on Mike. He is even providing buckets of newly minted coins for his guests to feed into the slot machine.

He's bought 2,000 slickers in case it rains.

Todd wouldn't say how much the Battersea party would cost by newspaper estimates ranged at 45,000 pounds ($1126,000).

Thai Ambassador to U. S. Is Named

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The SEATO Council today announced the appointment of Pote Sarasin, Thai ambassador to the United States, as the first secretary general of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Sarasin, 51, will head SEATO's permanent civil organization with headquarters in Bangkok. He will be responsible for the execution and coordination of the anti-communist alliance's on military policies and programs. The job previously has been left to the Council of Representatives, made up of chiefs of missions from member nations.

The new post was created at a meeting of the SEATO Council in Australia last March.

Survives 54 Days in Night Frozen High Sierras

CASTLE AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Air Force Lt. David A. Steeves, 29, survived through his eight-week ordeal today and told how he lived 54 days in the night-frozen High Sierras after parachuting from his plane May 9.

"I feel pretty good now," he said. "I have a lot of pain in my legs most of the time, I was just trying to live."

Three weeks ago the Air Force had reported him dead.

Down at 80 pounds from his normal 185, the 23-year-old pilot from Trumbull, Conn., was brought here today from Sequoia Kings Canyon National Park, where he had stumbled onto a pack trail.

"I wasn't religious when I went in there, but it was faith in the Lord that brought me out," he said.

In Trumbull, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Steeves, said the family had never given up hope, although the Air Force had sent them a death certificate and reported their son could not have survived in an area where there was still eight feet of snow.

"I put my faith and trust in God and He certainly did a good job of it," Mrs. Steeves said.

Steeves' wife Rita, also in Trumbull, exclaimed: "It's true! It's true! It's miraculously true!"

Steeves' grim story began shortly after he left May 9 from San Francisco, for Luke AFB, Hamilton Air Force Base, near Ariz., en route to his home base at Craig AFB, Selma, Ala.

He said he never knew what happened to the T-33 jet trainer he was flying.

"It just exploded," he told his mother over the telephone.

He said he was knocked out briefly and bailed out when he came to.

He landed at the 1,000-foot level where there was still much ice and snow.

"I banded up both my ankles pretty bad," he said. "For about a day I couldn't move. Then I was able to crawl." He had his flight jacket to wear over his summer uniform, and wrapped himself in his parachute at night.

"I was cold without the 'chute. I was cold with it. I was cold the whole time I was there," he said.

"It's a miracle I didn't get frost-bite."

Indiana Woman Killed in Wreck

MARKED TREE (AP) — An automobile and a truck collided on U.S. highway 63 two miles west of here yesterday, killing an Indiana woman who was riding in the car. The two drivers were injured.

State Trooper Wayland Speers said Mrs. Peggy Ada, 47, of Michigan City, Ind., was killed. Her husband, William, was taken to a Memphis hospital where his condition was described as satisfactory.

The driver of the truck, R. C. Fout of Cherry Valley, Ark., also was hospitalized at Memphis. Attendants said his condition was serious.

DIVORCES ACTOR

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actor Gerald Mohr, star of the "Foreign Intrigue" television series, has been divorced on his wife's testimony that he "just wanted his freedom."

Mrs. Rita Mohr charged cruelly and told Superior Court Mohr, 42, wouldn't accept emotional responsibilities of a family. They had been married nearly 20 years.

Mrs. Margaret S. May of Washington has enrolled for a six-day conference for housewives and residence directors at University of Oklahoma.

West to Suspend A-Tests If Russia Will Halt Buildup

By WILLIAM C. SEXTON

LONDON (AP) — The Western powers today formally offered to suspend nuclear tests on condition Russia stops building up its nuclear bomb stockpile and trims the size of its conventional armed forces.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd delivered the offer on behalf of the United States, Britain, France and Canada at the London disarmament conference.

He said Russia's agreement last month to allow atomic test observation stations of Soviet territory "now brings within the realm of possibility a temporary suspension of nuclear testing."

Lloyd offered the west's biggest disarmament concession yet to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin at a 2 1/2-hour meeting of the five-power conference.

He said the "common document" was not immediately available.

Lloyd suggested that experts from the five nations start immediate work on the details of setting up inspection stations in Russia, the United States, Britain and the Pacific to enforce a suspension of tests.

He also proposed that the chief delegates meet right down to work on "consideration of the necessary temporary suspension of nuclear testing to the other provisions of the first stage disarmament agreement."

But there was nothing in the common document on possible compromise with Russia's demand that use of nuclear weapons be banned from warfare, as is the case with poison gas.

The West was reported ready, nonetheless, to offer a partial ban allowing nuclear weapons only for the four-power declaration was Harold E. Stassen, who sold the idea of suspension to dubious Britain and France.

Stassen sat silently as chairman of the conference this afternoon as the plan was disclosed. Then he took the floor to explain its provisions.

Seeks Independence for the Algerians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) asked Congress today to put pressure on the Eisenhower administration to use its influence "in shaming a course to forward political independence for Algeria."

Kennedy, chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on United Nations affairs, said the United States must abandon what he called its "head-in-the-sand" policy and "the myth of a French empire."

"The problem is to save the French nation as well as free Africa," he said.

In a speech prepared for the Senate, Kennedy voiced a sweeping indictment of French policies in Algeria and United States support.

The Westminster Fellowship National Assembly, sponsored by the Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. was attended by 1,000 persons. It was adjourned one day early yesterday because of the outbreak.

Dr. Edmund G. Zimmerman, state health commissioner, referred to it as an "epidemic," but a U.S. Public Health Service Physician said the cases were "very mild."

One of the first reactions was whether the outbreak was Asian influenza which has spread out of China to other parts of the world. Although this type flu is believed to have reached the West Coast, Dr. Zimmerman said no cases have yet definitely been diagnosed in this country.

The Top Ten Millionaires in Hollywood

Editor's Note: It's possible to make a million in Hollywood. But it may surprise you to learn that there are few actors among the financial elite in Hollywood. Who are the millionaires and how did they achieve that status? Columnist Bob Thomas tells all about the money money-men in a three-part series starting today.

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (1) — Money, money — who's got it in Hollywood?

You might have an easier time figuring out who hasn't got it. Huge losses usually come out in the wash, while those who make big money and keep it are shy about revealing their wealth.

But by talking to a number of experts on Hollywood fiscal matters, I have arrived at a list of the town's wealthiest 10. Here they are:

1. Howard Hughes. He is really a ruler, since he amassed his wealth with his tool company and aircraft interests. But he belongs in the list because he has been linked to film production since 1927. His holdings have been estimated at a half-billion.

2. Samuel Goldwyn. He made his millions entirely from films and has been the industry's most successful independent. Variety makes these estimates of his recent films: "Guys and Dolls" — $11 million; "Best Years of Our Lives" — $11 million; "Hans Christian Andersen" — $6 million.

3. Louis B. Mayer. He started in the movie industry in 1915, added his name and company to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, reigned as production boss for 37 years. During that time, he was reportedly paid close to a million a year, plus a share of the profits.

4. J. J. Warner. He has long ruled as the boss of Warner Brothers Studio. When he and his two brothers were negotiating sale of their stock in the company, the value was estimated at 19 million.

5. Harry Cohn. The founder-boss of Columbia Pictures has remained quiet about his earnings. But he has made many millions from his shrewd operation of the studio.

6. Mary Pickford. She was the highest earner of the silent movie era, a time when income taxes were laughable.

7. Darryl Zanuck, head of Warner's production at 27, he left the studio and $5,000 a week to form 20th Century, later merged with Fox. His stock in the firm has enormous value.

8. Marion Davies. She was another stop star with her own production company in the silent days. She invested heavily in real estate and paid 2 million for Palm Springs Desert Inn two years ago.

9. Bob Hope and Bing Crosby. They are the only Johnny-come-latelies among the wealthy.

10. They make the list thanks to having their own companies, earning big dough in several mediums — especially — investing in oil.

Tomorrow: The next 15 Hollywood millionaires.

He loved Nan Stanfield. Realization whooped in on him like the cry of the gull they had just startled into screaming flight. He loved Nan — and if Kurt Lillard was freed — by any means — Kurt would marry this dark-haired girl whom Garde Shelton loved.

Kurt Lillard already had everything which Garde had set for his aim in life. Why should Garde have to be the one to present him with still more, to give him his freedom and name?

He took a deep breath and smiled at Nan. "If I have to begin the story anywhere," he said deeply, "I think it would have to be with the visit which Valley made here last summer."

She sat silent for a little time longer, then sighed and began her story.

"Valley came home the middle of August, and I think she planned to stay her usual brief time — certainly not more than a couple of days, judging from the clothes she brought with her. She arrived about noon, and we had settled down for a visit after lunch when Kurt stopped in. He kissed me and came on into the living room with me. Valley was sitting in one of the fireplace chairs and, oh, Garde, she was beautiful! Kurt just stood there gazing at her! I couldn't blame him. The sunlight came in through the bay window, across the flowers we keep there; it made a pattern of gold on the carpet — and they walked toward each other as if they were in a dream. I don't think they even touched hands. But I can remember how my skin went all goose pimples just to see the way they looked at each other. Kurt's face lit up, his eyes shone, and his mouth smiled. And Valley — well, glory is the one word to describe the way she looked. She was so beautiful, it hurt."

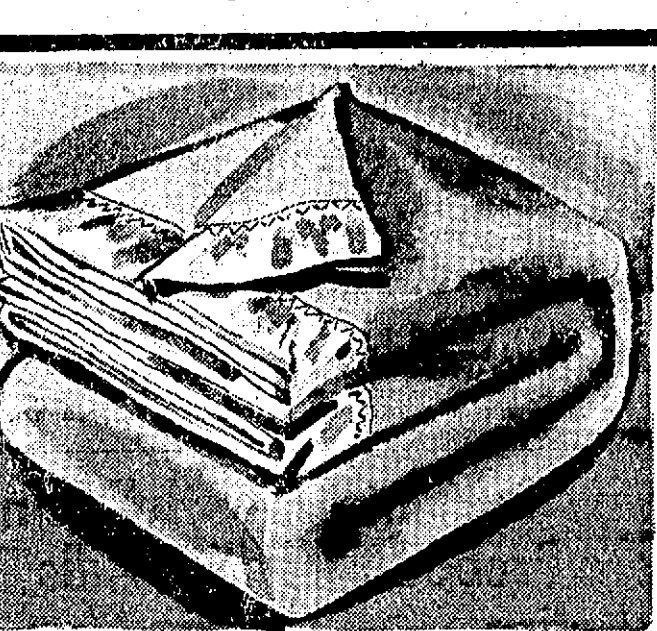

Nan's brown fists clasped against her breast.

"They didn't talk, and Kurt went away again quite soon — and when he'd left I showed Valley my ring. I hadn't had time before, and she said — well, she just said, 'Why, baby!'

Nan's mimicry was excellent. Garde could hear Valley's clear, ringing voice saying just that.

"Her whole attitude," Nan continued, again busy with her phrase, "was that the engagement just would not do. She said that and kept saying it, in all sorts of ways."

DOROTHY DIX

Shocking Action of Teens Poses Pregnancy Problems

Dear Dorothy Dix: Some time ago a majority of the popular boys in our high school made an agreement that they would not date any girls who wouldn't allow certain privileges. We all thought this was pretty horrible at first, but as we had no alternative we gradually accepted it.

Some of the couples are engaged, although the boys know the girls have been intimate with other fellows. Two girls (including me) have reason to think we're pregnant. What can we do? — O. N.

Dear O. N.: This is a shocking situation and hardly believable. However, judging from other letters I have received and newspaper reports of similar occurrences, I'm afraid the same thing is going on in more than one school.

Take this story to your parents at once. You'll need their help and support if you are pregnant and, in any case, it's the duty of your parents to bring this situation to the attention of the proper authorities. If for any reason you think you can't talk to your parents about this, you and some of the other girls should tell the story to your school principal, a favorite teacher, student counselor or clergyman — someone in authority who can see to it that this unwholesome mess is cleared up immediately.

Don't worry about the boys concerned; their high-handed behavior has made them a threat to the whole school, and any disciplinary action taken against them is well deserved.

As for you and your girl friends, I think you have learned the hard way the foolishness of bartering your reputation for a date, and that perhaps it's time to revive such old-fashioned and unpopular concepts as sin, purity, honor and chastity and virtue.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I've been dating two boys, Gene and Tony. I like them both and they both like me. The other night Gene asked me pointblank which one I loved, and I said Tony. Gene got mad and said he'd never see me again. Do you think he should have treated me like that for telling the truth? — OPAL

Dear Opal: Since you love Tony, why do you want Gene hanging around? Gene didn't have much choice but to walk out after you said you loved another. Be reasonable, girl.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a girl 14, my boy friend is 17. He just came out of reform school and though he loved me when they sent him away, he seems to have changed. Now he thinks I'm too young for him. How can I win him back? — CHICKIE

Dear Chickie: Why bother? Don't waste effort trying to get a boy who doesn't want you. Besides, a girl your age should be associating with boys in high school, not out of reform school. A lad who's had a brush with the law can bring too many complications to your life.

Chicken, Ham Feature Food for July 4

By The Associated Press

Firecrackers have been replaced by municipally sponsored displays of fireworks in many American communities, but one traditional aspect of the Fourth of July celebration—chicken or ham for dinner—will still be honored this week.

Broilers and fryers will be featured in many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores, along with smoked and canned hams. The theory behind the obnoxiousness of chickens and hams is that they can be served either hot or cold, indoors or out on the holiday. Ham, in addition, is usually good for some extra meals.

The possibility of getting extra meals may be the reason behind larger-than-usual offerings of turkey on the eve of a holiday. Another reason, great many say, is the large stock of gobblers which makes it possible to offer them at bargain prices.

Some stores will tempt the housewife with special prices on barbecue items such as frankfurters and cube steaks, or sandwich fillers like bologna and other cold cuts.

Potato salad, a staple of many a holiday meal, puts little strain on the housewife's pocketbook this year. California long whites and cobbler from North Carolina and Virginia are available in good numbers at prices which make them an outstanding buy. Escarole and celery are in the same category, along with new, hunched beets from nearby fields, new green cabbage and green or yellow squash.

Lettuce is rated as a good buy this week, although showing a wide range in quality and condition which calls for careful selection by the shopper. Other salad staples such as tomatoes, onions, cucumbers and peppers are moderately priced. Other vegetables in the good buy range in most places include snap beans, celery and sweet corn in areas where it's available from nearby farms.

Watermelons, a traditional part of the Fourth of July picnic, are available at exceptionally low prices right now. Melons weighing as much as 50 pounds are pouring from fields in Florida, Georgia and

Thought For The Day
The way to convince another is to state your case moderately and accurately. Then scratch your head, or shake it a little and say that is the way it seems to you, but that of course you may be mistaken about it. This causes your listener to receive what you have to say and, like as not, turn about and try to convince you of it, since you are in doubt. But if you go at him in a tone of positiveness and arrogance, you only make an opponent of him. Benjamin Franklin said it.

CHICAGO IN - Chicago Cub pitchers are on a strikeout binge. Manager Bob Schefling has no explanation, except that "some of these kids have real good stuff." One of the "kids" is Dick Drott, who celebrated his 21st birthday yesterday with a 6-0 victory over Cincinnati.
Drott fanned eight Redlegs to give Cub pitchers a total of 35 in the last three games.

For the season, the Cub staff has a total of 345 strikeouts. Drott, who has a 7-7 record, leads with 86 and is second in the league to Jack Sanford of Philadelphia, who has 88.
Drott limited the hard-hitting Redlegs to four singles and issued only two walks. He had Cincy popping up so much that the Cub infield registered only two assists. "It's great to be able to throw that ball where you want to," the young right-hander said.
Second to Drott in strikeouts is Moe Drabowsky, another 21-year-old right-hander. Moe has 60 but the phenomenal averages are held by Don Elston and Dick Littlefield, the only southpaw on the staff.
Elston has fanned 34 in 37innings and Littlefield has 28 in 31innings. Reliefer Turk Lown has 23 in 43innings and leads the league with a 1.80 earned run average.

Mantle's Blow Gives Yankees Biggest Lead

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer
One stroke of Mickey Mantle's bat - a lightning shot in the dark - was all the Yankees needed to put some daylight between them and the second-place White Sox.

That stroke by Mantle with one out in the 10th inning last night resulted in his 32nd homer of the season, a blow that produced a 3-2 victory over Baltimore and stretched the Yankees' lead to two games over Chicago.

Mantle, who has had his troubles from time to time with Baltimore pitching, had the satisfaction of walloping his homer off ace reliever George Zaverink, who had entered the game after the Orioles had tied the score with a run in the last of the ninth.

The Yankee slugger had the added satisfaction of winning the game before 45,276 fans, largest crowd ever to witness a major league night game in Baltimore. Detroit topped the White Sox, 5-2; Kansas City snapped an 11-game losing streak with a 10-3 decision over Cleveland, and Washington nipped Boston, 3-4.

The St. Louis Cardinals cut Milwaukee's lead in the National League to a half game with a 9-5 victory over the Braves; the Phillies defeated the Pirates 5-4; Brooklyn licked the Giants, 3-6, and the Cubs blanked Cincinnati, 6-0.

Seixas, Flam Fail in Play at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England, (UP) - It was up to the girls to salvage some prestige for the United States today in the Wimbledon tennis championships.
Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., the last American survivors of an 18-man squad, were bunched out of the men's singles yesterday. It marked the first time in 32 years at Wimbledon the U. S. failed to place a man in the semi-finals of that division.
However, it was a different story in the women's singles, where five Yanks sought berths today in the semifinals.
In an all-American quarter-final match, four-time singles champion Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., played Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif.
Top-seeded Althea Gibson of New York, striving to become Wimbledon's first Negro champion, faced Sandra Reynolds of South Africa. The other matches pitted Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, N.Y., against Rosa Maria Reyes of Mexico and Betty Rosenquest Pratt of Jamaica and South Orange, N.J., against Christine Truman of Britain.

The quarter-finals of the men's doubles presented two interesting U. S.-Australia matches. Old-line Gardner Mulloy of Denver, Colo., and Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris played Mal Anderson and Ashley Cooper, while Myron Franks of Los Angeles and Mike Green of Miami Beach, Fla., met the top-seeded Aussie Tandem of Lew Hoad and Neale Fraser.
Sid Schwartz of New York and Mimi Arnold of Redwood City, Calif., faced Hugh Stewart of San Marino, Calif., and Erika Vollmer of Germany in the third round of the mixed doubles.
Seixas was stymied in his bid to regain the men's singles title he won in 1932 when he bowed to Sven Davidson of Sweden, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, yesterday. Flam dropped a 6-3, 7-5, 6-1 decision to Cooper in another quarter-final match.

There are about 220,300 miles of railway lines in the United States.

Few Signs of July 4 on TV Thursday

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (U.P.) — You will scan in vain the Fourth of July program listings on the three television networks for any sign that Thursday is indeed Independence Day.

The closest brush with American history comes on Matinee Theater (NBC-TV) which will present a drama about Benjamin Franklin's diplomatic mission to France entitled "The Last Voyage."

It is an interesting state of affairs in light of the fact that TV programs annually celebrate Christmas for a solid week with 37 varieties of "The Christmas Carol" and much mistletoe and hugging of trees.

Television is merely following the tendency of the times. As a people we have become greatly excited about the Civil War in recent years. But the 18th century, most fascinating and perilous of our history, remains largely in the limbo of the public imagination.

In the past two years there has been only one good TV drama about 18th century America — "The Devil's Disciple." And that, interestingly, was written by an Irishman named George Bernard Shaw and produced by an Englishman named Maurice Evans.

Before belaboring television, however, let's remember that not in many years has there been a good movie made about the years of our struggle for political independence. The record of the legitimate theater is no better.

Look, too, at the failure of novelists to become absorbed — and so to absorb us — in the American Revolution. How many good novels have been written about it in recent years?

But historical significance does not always shape popular interests. Since the bulls rang out on July 4, 1876, there have been 180 years of feasting and frolicking: lemonade and watermelons, fireworks and baseball games, parades and floats and speechifying.

That's the glorious Fourth as we know it. Apparently you can't expect television to do otherwise than join the crowd and relax.
